

A modern, single-story garden office with light green vertical siding and a flat roof. The building features large, multi-paned windows and a central glass door that is open, revealing a bright interior with a desk and chair. A wooden deck runs along the front of the building. The office is situated on a well-maintained lawn with a landscaped garden bed in the foreground containing various plants and large rocks. The background shows lush green trees under a clear blue sky.

Evolution.

The next generation of outdoor space.

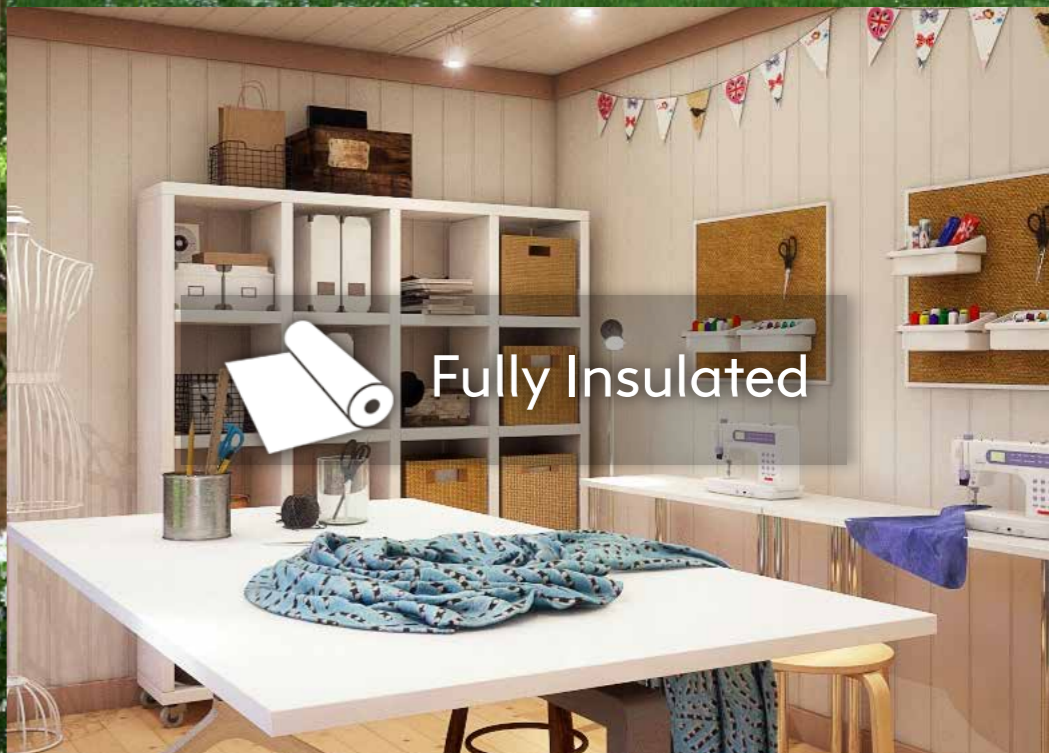

Evolution is the latest generation of outdoor living space – engineered to be enjoyed more and maintained less. It's designed to withstand UK weather elements using a modular 3-in-1 technique, a multi-foil insulation sheet is sandwiched in between a decorative MDF panel on the inside and on the outside a durable composite timber cladding supported by heavy duty framing, creating a panel over 70mm thick.
